Organizational Efforts: The Head of the Department of Physical Therapy, Dr. Huma Riaz played a pivotal role as the chief organizer of the event. Her dedication, leadership, and meticulous planning ensured the smooth execution of the symposia. The organizing committee, comprising faculty members who contributed significantly to the success of the event through their tireless efforts.

Outcomes and Impact: The 1st Rehab and Allied Symposia had several positive outcomes and impacts, including:

Encouragement of Undergraduate Research: The symposia provided a platform for DPT students to showcase their research and fostered a culture of undergraduate research within the department. It encouraged students to engage in scholarly activities, develop critical thinking skills, and pursue further studies in research-oriented fields. Students were awarded with cash prizes and certificates as a token of appreciation and for encouragement.

Knowledge Exchange: The event facilitated the exchange of knowledge, ideas, and experiences among participants. The poster presentations sparked insightful discussions and allowed participants to gain new perspectives on various topics within physical therapy.

Networking and Collaboration: The symposia provided a platform for students to interact with faculty members, professionals, and fellow students, fostering interdisciplinary collaborations and networking opportunities. The event facilitated the sharing of research interests, ideas, and potential collaborations among participants.

The event served as a catalyst for their academic and professional growth, instilling a sense of confidence and enthusiasm.

Future Recommendations: Based on the success of the 1st Rehab and Allied Symposia, the following recommendations are put forth for future events:

1. Expand Participation: Encourage more students from the DPT program to participate in the poster presentations, providing them with a broader opportunity to showcase their research.
2. Diversify Research Areas: Encourage students to explore diverse research areas within physical therapy and allied health sciences, broadening the scope of research topics presented in future symposia.

3. Promote Research Culture: Continue to promote a research-oriented culture within the department by organizing such informative and interactive forums for the students and professionals.

Objectives

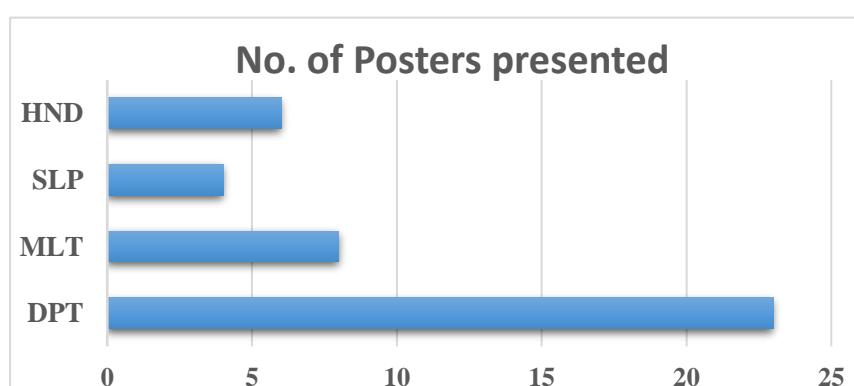

- Promote a culture of undergraduate research
- Provide a platform for students to showcase and present their research work
- Foster interdisciplinary collaboration and academic dialogue
- Encourage mentorship and feedback through professional jury evaluation

National Collaborations

The event attracted jury members from prominent national institutions, including:

- Quaid-e-Azam University
- Shifa Tameer-e-Millat University
- Ibadat International University
- National Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine
- Margalla Institute of Health Sciences

Notably, FRAHS alumni from some of these prestigious institutions served as jury members, demonstrating the strong academic legacy and professional influence of Riphah graduates.

Event Overview

Day 1 – 14th May 2025 (Gulberg Green Campus)

The event commenced with an opening ceremony that marked the beginning of a significant academic gathering. Esteemed faculty members Prof. Dr. Arshad Nawaz Malik, Prof. Dr. Huma Riaz, and Prof. Dr. Qamar delivered insightful opening speeches, setting an inspiring tone for the proceedings. The presence of the Guest of Honor, Dr. Sarwat Jamila, Director of the Campus, underscored the institutional support and commitment to academic excellence.

DPT students from the Girls Campus presented their research through poster presentations, demonstrating their dedication to advancing knowledge in physical therapy. The poster presentations were evaluated by distinguished alumni, Dr. Fauzia Batool from Shifa Tameer-e-Millat University and Dr. Misbah Ghous from Margalla Institute of Health Sciences, whose expertise provided valuable feedback to the students.

Day 2 – 15th May 2025 (Gulberg Green Campus)

The closing ceremony featured a series of poster presentations by students from various departments, including SLP, MLT, and HND. Respected Vice Chancellor, Prof. Dr. Anis Ahmed, graced the ceremony and highlighted the significance of undergrad research and guided future prospects of inviting other campuses. Prof. Dr. Asghar Khan, Dean FRAHS, also addressed the attendees, highlighting the significance of interdisciplinary collaboration in healthcare education. Cash prizes were awarded to the top presenters by Dr. Kousar Firdous, recognizing their outstanding contributions and encouraging continued excellence in research and practice.

Day 3 – 16th May 2025 (Al-Mizan Campus)

The 3rd day was organized at Al-Mizan Campus by Prof. Dr. Waseem on May 16, 2025. Research posters were presented by DPT and MLT students. The presentations were evaluated by Dr. Zia Ur Rehman from Khyber Medical University (KMU), Swabi and Dr. Ehab Azim from Fauji Foundation University, who provided valuable feedback to the participants.

Cash prizes were awarded to the top presenters, recognising their outstanding contributions. The event acknowledged the support from the IIMCT leadership, HODs from the GGC, and the organizing team led by Dr. Affan, Dr. Attiq, Dr. Kainat, Dr. Fakhrul Hassan, among others.

Prof. Dr. Asghar Khan, proposed expanding the event to a university-wide scale in future iterations. Additionally, Dr. Fakhrul Hassan delivered a brief keynote address emphasising the value of student research in academic and professional development.
